List the responsibilities/roles of each team member

TM1: Designed and implemented the Finite State Machine (FSM) that governs LED and button behavior. Focused on debugging the state transitions, ensuring smooth responses for multi-button inputs (PB0, PB1, PB2). Verified that interrupt-driven logic (IOC and timer interrupts) correctly interfaces with the FSM. Helped identify and fix timing and state "glitches" to meet requirements (e.g., no polling, immediate LED off upon release).	TM2: Wrote answers to the lab questions (e.g., IOC behavior, delay implementation) and ensured all were coherent and complete. Compiled the final report PDF, merging technical sections from Chloe and Ethan. Filmed and narrated the 5-minute demonstration video, showing hardware setup, FSM transitions, and team member contributions. Assisted in full integration of project code in MPLAB and GitHub management.
TM3: Assisted Chloe in debugging and validating code functionality, particularly focusing on system-wide consistency. Authored the section of the report explaining the overall purpose, structure, and flow of the code. Described how key functions (IOinit(), delay_ms(), ISR routines) work together to achieve power-efficient operation. Ensured that the code adheres to assignment restrictions (no polling, no delays in ISRs, clean idle states).	TM4:
